Play for keeps with Transactor™!

TRANSACTION

Transactor is a breakthrough technology that let's you own and collect weapons and power-ups in Transactor-enabled games. Unlike ordinary games, where you sacrifice weapons and power-ups when you lose, Transactor-enabled games let you keep and collect every super weapon, power-up and accessory you find. Play for keeps and collect all the best Limited Edition Digital Objects (LEDOs) included in Transactor games—super weapons, equipment, ammo, spells, defenses, power-ups, and more! Get LEDOs in new games, buy them from HEAT.NET, trade with other players, or sell your best ones for real world dollars. LEDOs are issued in strictly limited quantities, some are common, but others are very rare and could bring a hefty price from another player.

The Transactor technology appears in 2 new games, 10^{SIX} and Vigilance. In these games all the weapons and power-ups are collectible LEDOs. Play Transactor-enabled games on HEAT.NET and your LEDOs are automatically registered in your name—that means only you can use them. Sign onto HEAT.NET and track who owns what and all trades between players. The LEDO breakthrough adds new competitive, collectible action to PC games.
